Welcome

Welcome to the Drama Menu Resource Pack, the perfect partner to the unique three-course teaching system.

This pack was created alongside the book to allow you to get the very best out of Drama Menu. If a resource is required, it will be here; so, if you're short of time or just looking for some inspiration, the Resource Pack is at hand to help you deliver dynamic and creative drama sessions in three easy steps...

- 1) Select your menu by browsing the book or by taking suggestions from our online community at www.dramamenu.com.
- 2) Find the required resources (the large numbers at the top of each resource sheet relate to the game number in the book), and then print the required number of copies.
- 3) Follow the guidelines in the book for each activity.

It's as easy as that! Three simple steps and you have all the ingredients for a fun-filled, creative drama session. All you have to do is add some energy, enthusiasm, a room full of eager participants, and a copy of Drama Menu!

With Drama Menu and this Resource Pack, it's never been easier to provide a positive and progressive learning experience for your drama group. We've done the hard work, leaving you free to do what you do best: delivering engaging and creative drama sessions that will inspire and enrich each participant.

Buy your copy of Drama Menu from www.nickhernbooks.co.uk

Team Challenge

Team Challenge #1

- 1) Everyone in the group must touch all four walls in the room.
- 2) Shake hands with everyone in your group.
- 3) Find out whose birthday is next and sing 'Happy Birthday' to them.
- 4) Just by using your bodies, make a bridge (for the group leader to walk underneath).
- 5) Make a tight circle... put your left hands in and hold hands with another person, now do the same with your right hands! You are now a human knot!! Untie yourselves (without letting go of each other's hands).
- 6) Line up in shoe size order and sit down.
- 7) Smile! You might have won!

Team Challenge #2

- 1) Stand in a perfect circle.
- 2) Saying one letter each in cannon, recite the whole alphabet.
- 3) Have a group hug.
- 4) Stand as far away from each other as possible and count down from 20 to 1 (getting progressively louder).
- 5) Make a revolutionary 'people-cleaning machine' just by using your bodies for the group leader to walk through.
- 7) Line up in age order.
- 8) Sit down.
- 9) Make an aeroplane out of this page and fly it at the group leader. First to fly... wins!

Team Challenge

Team Challenge #3

- 1) Just by using your bodies... make an Eiffel Tower.
- 2) Do the Hokey Cokey.
- 3) Make a dog out of your bodies and run over to bark at the group leader.
- 4) Hide the tallest member of your group with your bodies.
- 5) Just by using your bodies, make a present for the group leader to open.
- 6) Give a compliment to every member of your group.
- 7) Do the conga around the group leader.
- 8) Return to your Eiffel Tower positions and fly this page (like a flag) from the top. The first group to fly the flag is the winner!

Team Challenge #4 (Christmas Special)

- 1) Find out whose birthday it is next and make a nativity picture with them as baby Jesus. When it's ready, call the group leader over to award points (out of 10).
- 2) Name Santa's reindeer.
- 3) Make a sleigh for Santa just by using your bodies and slide it over to the group leader giving him/her a present. How much did they like the gift (out of 5)?
- 4) Name six things you would eat at Christmas.
- 5) Sing 'We Wish You a Merry Christmas' to the group leader as beautifully as you can. How much did they enjoy the performance (out of 10)?
- 6) Make a Christmas candle just by using your bodies and ask the group leader to blow it out.
- 7) Sit down and smile.... You just might have won.
- 8) Dress a member of your group like an alternative Santa. [Note: 5 bonus points will be awarded for the best dressed / most original Santa.]

Team Challenge #4 - Answers

- 2) Dasher, Dancer, Prancer, Vixen, Comet, Cupid, Donner, Blitzen, Rudolph
- 4) Ask each group, in turn, to read out their Christmas dinner items; if another group has written the same answer, no one scores a point for that item. Each remaining food item will win one point.

[Note: You will need a box of clothing for the players to dress their Santas and it's a good idea to have a nominal prize for the winning team.]

Sonnet On 1 Breath

Print, cut out and take a deep breath!

Sonnet 29

When in disgrace with fortune and men's eyes
 I all alone beweepe my outcast state,
 And trouble deaf heaven with my bootless cries,
 And look upon myself, and curse my fate,
 Wishing me like to one more rich in hope,
 Featured like him, like him with friends possessed,
 Desiring this man's art, and that man's scope,
 With what I most enjoy contented least;
 Yet in these thoughts my self almost despising,
 Haply I think on thee, and then my state,
 Like to the lark at break of day arising
 From sullen earth, sings hymns at heaven's gate;
 For thy sweet love remembered such wealth brings
 That then I scorn to change my state with kings.

Sonnet 2

When forty winters shall besiege thy brow,
 And dig deep trenches in thy beauty's field,
 Thy youth's proud livery so gazed on now,
 Will be a totter'd weed of small worth held:
 Then being asked, where all thy beauty lies,
 Where all the treasure of thy lusty days;
 To say, within thine own deep sunken eyes,
 Were an all-eating shame, and thriftless praise.
 How much more praise deserv'd thy beauty's use,
 If thou couldst answer 'This fair child of mine
 Shall sum my count, and make my old excuse,'
 Proving his beauty by succession thine!
 This were to be new made when thou art old,
 And see thy blood warm when thou feel'st it cold.

Sonnet On 1 Breath

Sonnet 23

As an unperfect actor on the stage,
 Who with his fear is put beside his part,
 Or some fierce thing replete with too much rage,
 Whose strength's abundance weakens his own heart;
 So I, for fear of trust, forget to say
 The perfect ceremony of love's rite,
 And in mine own love's strength seem to decay,
 O'ercharged with burthen of mine own love's might.
 O! let my looks be then the eloquence
 And dumb presagers of my speaking breast,
 Who plead for love, and look for recompense,
 More than that tongue that more hath more express'd.
 O! learn to read what silent love hath writ:
 To hear with eyes belongs to love's fine wit.

Sonnet 12

When I do count the clock that tells the time,
 And see the brave day sunk in hideous night;
 When I behold the violet past prime,
 And sable curls, all silvered o'er with white;
 When lofty trees I see barren of leaves,
 Which erst from heat did canopy the herd,
 And summer's green all girded up in sheaves,
 Borne on the bier with white and bristly beard,
 Then of thy beauty do I question make,
 That thou among the wastes of time must go,
 Since sweets and beauties do themselves forsake
 And die as fast as they see others grow;
 And nothing 'gainst Time's scythe can make defence
 Save breed, to brave him when he takes thee hence.

Sonnet On 1 Breath

Sonnet 97

How like a winter hath my absence been
 From thee, the pleasure of the fleeting year!
 What freezings have I felt, what dark days seen!
 What old December's bareness everywhere!
 And yet this time removed was summer's time;
 The teeming autumn, big with rich increase,
 Bearing the wanton burden of the prime,
 Like widow'd wombs after their lords' decease:
 Yet this abundant issue seemed to me
 But hope of orphans, and unfathered fruit;
 For summer and his pleasures wait on thee,
 And, thou away, the very birds are mute:
 Or, if they sing, 'tis with so dull a cheer,
 That leaves look pale, dreading the winter's near.

Sonnet 70

That thou art blamed shall not be thy defect,
 For slander's mark was ever yet the fair;
 The ornament of beauty is suspect,
 A crow that flies in heaven's sweetest air.
 So thou be good, slander doth but approve
 Thy worth the greater, being wooed of time;
 For canker vice the sweetest buds doth love,
 And thou present'st a pure unstained prime.
 Thou hast passed by the ambush of young days
 Either not assailed, or victor being charged;
 Yet this thy praise cannot be so thy praise,
 To tie up envy, evermore enlarged,
 If some suspect of ill masked not thy show,
 Then thou alone kingdoms of hearts shouldst owe.

Sonnet On 1 Breath

Sonnet 33

Full many a glorious morning have I seen
 Flatter the mountain tops with sovereign eye,
 Kissing with golden face the meadows green,
 Gilding pale streams with heavenly alchemy;
 Anon permit the basest clouds to ride
 With ugly rack on his celestial face,
 And from the forlorn world his visage hide,
 Stealing unseen to west with this disgrace:
 Even so my sun one early morn did shine,
 With all triumphant splendour on my brow;
 But out, alack, he was but one hour mine,
 The region cloud hath mask'd him from me now.
 Yet him for this my love no whit disdaineth;
 Suns of the world may stain when heaven's sun staineth.

Sonnet 89

Say that thou didst forsake me for some fault,
 And I will comment upon that offence:
 Speak of my lameness, and I straight will halt,
 Against thy reasons making no defence.
 Thou canst not, love, disgrace me half so ill,
 To set a form upon desired change,
 As I'll myself disgrace; knowing thy will,
 I will acquaintance strangle, and look strange;
 Be absent from thy walks; and in my tongue
 Thy sweet beloved name no more shall dwell,
 Lest I, too much profane, should do it wrong,
 And haply of our old acquaintance tell.
 For thee, against my self I'll vow debate,
 For I must ne'er love him whom thou dost hate.

Sonnet On 1 Breath

Sonnet 149

Canst thou, O cruel! say I love thee not,
When I against myself with thee partake?
Do I not think on thee, when I forgot
Am of my self, all tyrant, for thy sake?
Who hateth thee that I do call my friend,
On whom frown'st thou that I do fawn upon,
Nay, if thou lour'st on me, do I not spend
Revenge upon myself with present moan?
What merit do I in my self respect,
That is so proud thy service to despise,
When all my best doth worship thy defect,
Commanded by the motion of thine eyes?
But, love, hate on, for now I know thy mind,
Those that can see thou lov'st, and I am blind.

TWO & THREE Stop laughing at me! Ha ha!

ONE STOP IT! You think you're so clever, don't you?!

THREE We don't think...

TWO & THREE WE KNOW!

TWO Ha! In your face!

ONE Right! That's it!... I'm telling!

TWO Oooooo!! We're SOOOOOO scared!

ONE You WILL be! (ONE runs off.)

THREE Yeah, go on... go and tell! You big baby!

TWO What a complete loser!

FOUR You two! Over here!

THREE Oh, here we go! We haven't done anything, Miss!

TWO Yeah! It's HER fault, she...

FOUR QUIET! I don't want to hear it!

TWO What?! You won't even let us speak!

FOUR You'll get your say soon enough!

THREE (To ONE.) We haven't done anything wrong. It's her!

ONE Me?!

TWO Yeah, you! You loser!

TWO & THREE Ha ha!

FOUR Right, that's it! Detention for both of you!

TWO Groan! She started it.

ONE Yeah right, you muppets!

FOUR Woah! That's enough from you too, young lady!

THREE Yeah, you tell her, Miss!

FOUR Right! I've had enough of this nonsense. Into my office, all of you!

ONE, TWO & THREE (Protesting vigorously.) Awwwwwwww!

FOUR Now!

TWO You'll have to catch us first.

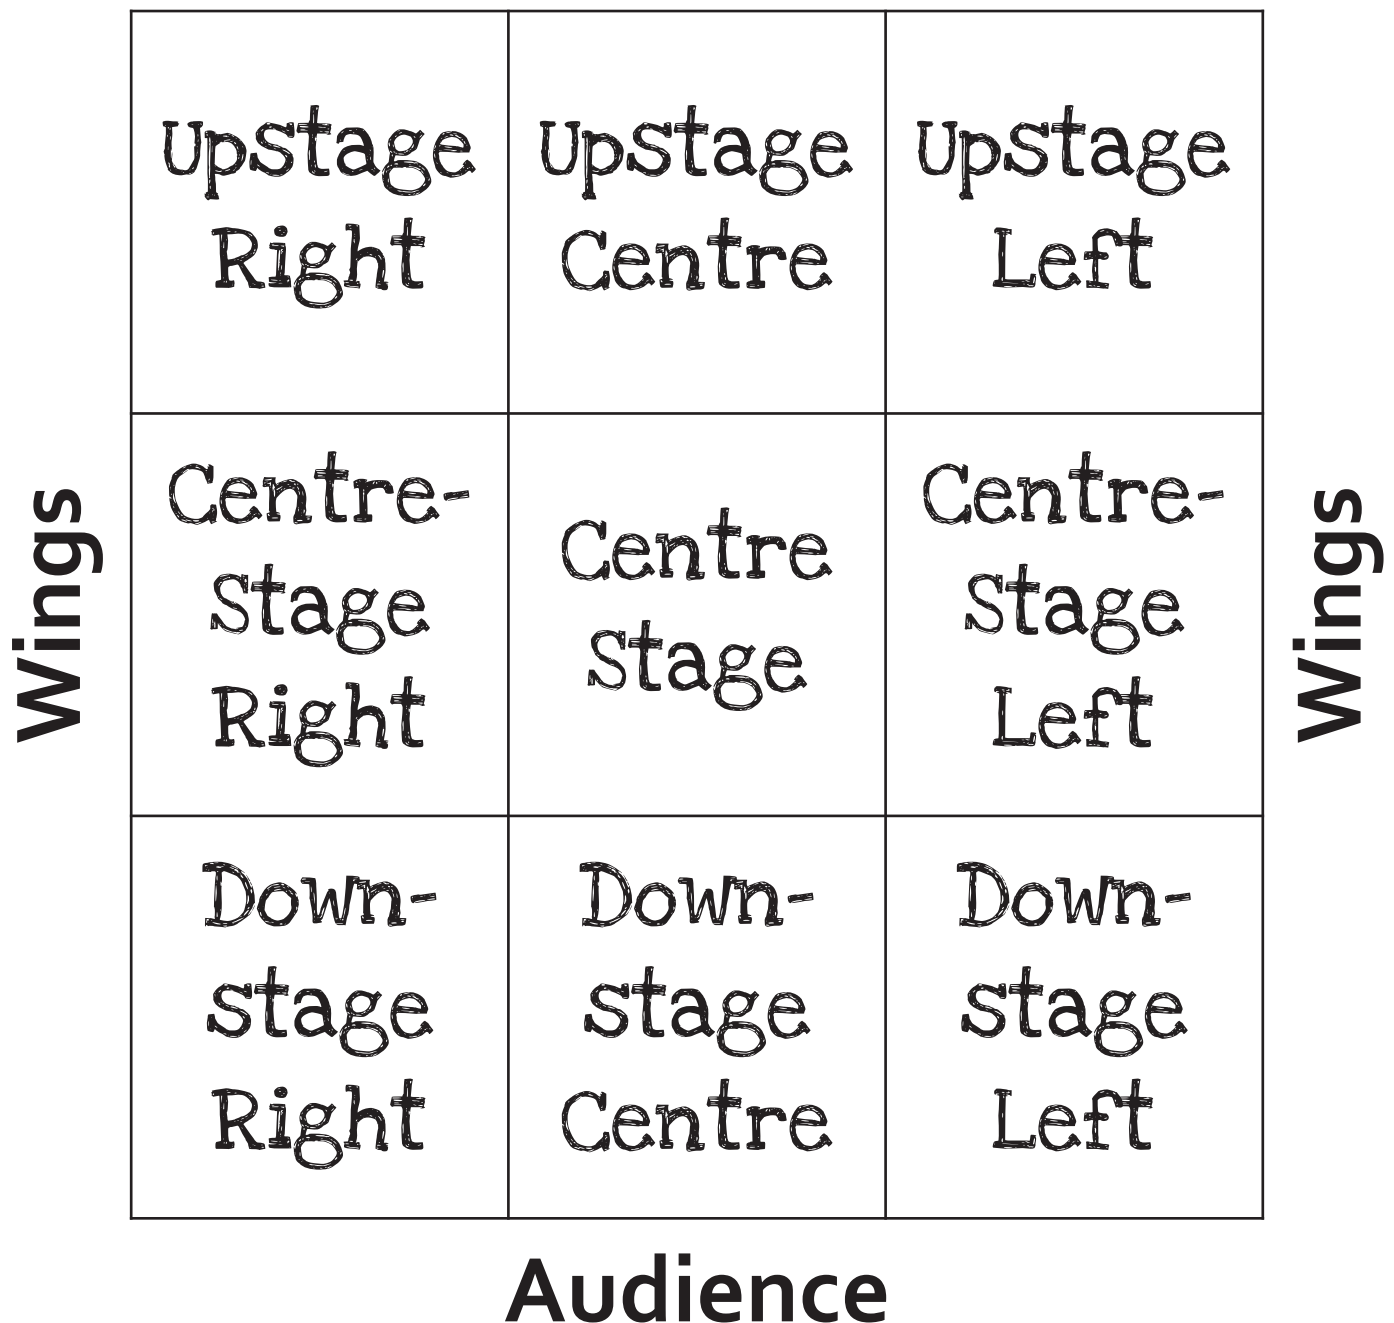

THREE Yeah, see ya later, losers!

FOUR Stop right there! Come back... COME BACK!

Staging by Numbers

This exercise is all about familiarising performers with their place of work (the stage) and acquainting them with the terminology associated with stage directions.

With inexperienced performers, it is a good idea to hand out copies of the illustration below as it will allow them to accurately follow the stage directions in the 'Staging by Numbers' resource sheets.

Staging by Numbers

Staging by Numbers #1 (Two Performers)

A enters CENTRE-STAGE RIGHT and sits on a chair CENTRE STAGE, placing head in hands.

A moves DOWNSTAGE RIGHT.

B follows A.

The Moral of the Story

All that glitters is not gold.

Every cloud has a silver lining.

Don't judge a book by its cover.

One good turn deserves another.

United we stand, divided we fall.

He who laughs last, laughs longest.

Honesty is the best policy.

Don't count your chickens before they're hatched.

Money is the root of all evil.

Fairytales

The action begins in a far-away kingdom where there is a princess in a large building (e.g. a castle).

The princess finds reason to leave the large building.

In the outside world, the princess meets a villain/villains and something bad happens.

A hero enters to confront the villain.

The conclusion, where, as we know, everyone will live happily ever after... Or will they? This is, after all, a never-before-seen fairytale, so it's up to you!

Oliver Twist

Part 1

The pale-faced, hungry children of the workhouse enter the food-hall for their daily ration of gruel. Mr Bumble, the pompous, self-important head of the workhouse enters and orders the children to be quiet and line up! Once order (and quiet) has descended, Mr Bumble instructs Widow Corney to begin the service. Widow Corney slops the disgusting mixture into the children's bowls as they file past and she warns them not to ask for any more! The children sit to eat their gruel and decide to draw straws in order to decide who will go and ask for 'more'. Oliver Twist, the new workhouse boy, draws the short straw and is encouraged by the other workhouse children to accept the challenge. He takes his bowl to Mr Bumble and asks, 'Please, Sir, I want some more.' Mr Bumble and Widow Corney are enraged by this insolence and chase after Oliver in order to beat him!

Part 2

Mr Bumble is so angry with Oliver that he grabs him by the ear and takes him out onto the streets to sell him. A crowd gather to bid for the boy in an auction but no one is prepared to pay enough for him (much to Mr Bumble's disgust). However, Mr and Mrs Sowerberry, the undertakers enter and bid £5 for the boy. Oliver is taken to the undertakers where he is picked on by Charlotte (the Sowerberry's daughter) and Noah (their apprentice), they call him 'Work'us' and tease him for having no mother. Oliver is fed scraps and forced to sleep in a room full of coffins. He is frightened as he goes to sleep. He is alone, tearful and wonders if anyone will ever love him. When Charlotte and Noah come to tease him in the morning, he sees red, pushes them to the ground and runs away.

Part 3

After a long journey, Oliver finally arrives in London. On arrival, he meets the Artful Dodger who sees that Oliver is lost and frightened and decides to befriend him. He introduces Oliver to his gang and they welcome him to London, telling him to 'consider himself at home'! They take him to their hideout to meet Fagin (the gang leader), he is an old, mischievous man who trains boys to steal from the gentry. Fagin asks Oliver if he would like to learn how to relieve the noble folk of their handkerchiefs and other luxury items, Oliver says 'yes', upon which, Fagin and the gang teach him how to pick a pocket (or two). Following this, Fagin welcomes Oliver to the fold and says that he is now a fully fledged member of the gang. Oliver is delighted and as a special treat, he is allowed to sleep by the fire next to Fagin.

Show in 30 Minutes

Part 4

The next morning, Oliver wakes by the fire and sees Fagin retrieving his treasure chest from a secret hiding place and counting his riches. Fagin sees that Oliver is awake and is extremely angry. He hides the box and grabs Oliver aggressively, making him swear that he won't tell anyone about what he's just seen. Oliver, in fear of his life, promises that he won't and when satisfied that the child won't squeal, Fagin calls the gang to congregate. He gives them a little pep talk and sends them out into the streets, encouraging them to 'be back soon'. The gang persuade Oliver to pick a gentleman's pocket but as he lunges for the wallet, he is discovered! The gentleman grabs Oliver and calls for the police. The police arrive and arrest Oliver as the rest of the gang scarpers into the distance.

Part 5

The gang return to the lair, out of breath after escaping from the police. Fagin enters, concerned about the gang's early return and demands to know what has happened! Dodger informs him that Oliver has been captured by 'The Beak' (police) and put up by a rich man (Mr Brownlow). Fagin is very worried. He tells Bill Sykes the news. Bill Sykes is a dangerous man and is furious. He decides to resolve the situation himself and calls for Bet and Nancy. He informs them that he needs their assistance to re-capture Oliver. They agree and exit with Bill. On the streets, Oliver is found delivering books for Mr Brownlow and is grabbed by Nancy. Oliver screams and a concerned crowd gathers. Nancy tells the gathered crowd that Oliver is her delinquent brother who has run away from home and that she's come to take him back. The crowd take Nancy's side and tell Oliver to go home quietly and to stop misbehaving at which point, Nancy drags him away.

Part 6

Nancy regrets capturing Oliver and decides to deliver him back to Mr Brownlow. She secretly agrees to meet Mr Brownlow on London Bridge at midnight but Bill Sykes discovers her plan and goes to the bridge to kill her. After the deed is done, Bill snatches Oliver but as he goes to take him away, armed police enter and tell him to give himself up. Bill shouts that he'll never give himself up and is shot dead by the police. Oliver is given back to Mr Brownlow who, as it turns out, is his own grandfather and resolves to look after him always.

A Christmas Carol

Part 1

It is Christmas Eve in London. Carols are being sung in the churches but Ebenezer Scrooge thinks nothing of Christmas. He is working, counting all his considerable wealth. His one employee, Bob Cratchit, begs Mr Scrooge to let him have Christmas Day off and after lots of grovelling and pleading, Scrooge agrees.

After Bob Cratchit leaves, Mr Scrooge's cousin enters to ask if he would like to join him for Christmas dinner, Scrooge says no and sends him on his way. Next come some charity workers who ask for money for the poor, Scrooge is furious with them for disturbing him at work and tells them to go away.

When Scrooge goes home that night, there is a strange sound when he opens his door. He walks slowly into his house and finds the ghost of Jacob Marley waiting for him (Marley once worked with Scrooge but is now dead). Scrooge is terrified! Marley says that he has come to warn Scrooge about the error of his ways. He opens the window and shows him all the lost souls who are in pain and being punished for being greedy in life. Marley tells Scrooge that he will be visited by three ghosts that night who will try to get him to change his ways before it's too late.

Scrooge tells Marley to leave him alone. Marley says very strongly... 'Listen to the ghosts, do not ignore them or you will end up like me; for ever!'

Part 2

Scrooge is sitting alone and shivering after having met Marley's ghost. Suddenly, there is a rap on the door. Scrooge jumps out of his skin. Then the sound of singing is heard, it is a group of carol singers outside his door. He flings the door open and shouts at them to go away. They ask for money and Scrooge almost combusts with rage and they leave (in a hurry) with nothing. Scrooge slams the door and goes nervously to bed.

Scrooge is sleeping when a sound is heard in the darkness; he wakes with a jolt. He quivers as out of the darkness comes the Ghost of Christmas Past. The ghost instructs Scrooge to leave his bed and informs him that he is there to heal him of his miserly ways! On that, the ghost takes him on a trip back in time.

Scrooge is taken back to his old school. We see the other children picking on young Scrooge, calling him names and pushing him to the floor. Next, the ghost takes him to his early years of working. He is in his office when his boss enters and says that he is giving him a pay rise. Scrooge is absolutely delighted. We see how Scrooge is becoming obsessed by money. So obsessed that his fiancée finds him hugging and kissing all his money and breaks off the engagement.

On this, the ghost takes Scrooge back to his house, throws him back onto the bed and informs him that another ghost will visit him in one hour! Scrooge begs to be left alone but the ghost has disappeared into the darkness.

Show in 30 Minutes

Part 3

Scrooge is unable to sleep; he is trembling with fear. He hears a knock on the door and is terrified out of his wits but when he answers it, it is only a poor child wanting a Christmas farthing (coin), Scrooge bellows at him for disturbing him so late at night and tells the child (in no uncertain terms) to leave him alone. He creeps slowly back upstairs and as he climbs into his bed... the clock strikes two.

Out of the gloom comes the Ghost of Christmas Present. The ghost proclaims that Scrooge must see the light tonight or he will be a lost soul for ever. The ghost takes Scrooge to see Bob Cratchit (his employee) and his family on Christmas Day. The Cratchit family are sitting around their Christmas table upon which sits a turkey the size of a sparrow. Tiny Tim (Bob's son) is coughing; he is very frail and will die if he does not receive good food and medicine.

Despite this poverty and the way Scrooge has treated him, Bob Cratchit raises a toast to Ebenezer Scrooge. His family all join in a toast to Mr Scrooge. A poor woman comes to the door of the Cratchit home and asks if they can spare anything for her on Christmas Day. Despite having almost nothing, Bob invites her in to share the dinner. The old woman weeps with joy at this kind act.

Scrooge is starting to see the error of his ways and tells the ghost that he is sorry, but the Ghost says that sorry is not enough; he will have to meet the third ghost at three o'clock... Scrooge begs to be left alone but the ghost takes Scrooge back to his room and says that he will be visited by the third ghost...

Part 4

Scrooge is hiding under his blanket. He flinches and screams at every noise. He finally falls asleep but then, the covers of his bed are pulled slowly back as the third Ghost, the Ghost of Christmas Yet to Come, awakens Scrooge.

Scrooge screams! He is in tears and begs to be left alone. The Ghost says no; there are things that must be seen. Scrooge tries to hide under the bed but he is pulled out by the ghost who says that he is going to take Scrooge to see the Cratchit family. This puts Scrooge at ease as, the last time he saw them, they seemed such a contented and happy family. When he sees the family they are all gathered together, heads bowed. We hear words of remembrance being uttered and the solemn tableau opens up to reveal the funeral of Tiny Tim. Scrooge is saddened and blames himself for Tiny Tim's death.

The ghost says that 'this is not all, there is another death you must see'. On that, he takes Scrooge to another grave. People are gathered around the grave, speaking ill of the dead... 'Good riddance', 'The world will be a better place without him', and so on. Scrooge wonders who could have been so terrible in life that people wished so ill of them in death; they move aside to reveal the grave of Ebenezer Scrooge.

The 'mourners' exit, raucously celebrating the death of Ebenezer Scrooge. Scrooge falls to the floor crying and eventually collapses in an exhausted sleep.

Show in 30 Minutes

Part 5

The wind is howling and eerie sounds are heard when suddenly, all is quiet and the lifeless body of Ebenezer Scrooge lies, motionless, on the floor. Suddenly, Scrooge wakes up. He is confused and calls for his housemaid to come to him. He quizzes her as to what day is this. She looks at him, bewildered and replies, 'Why, it's Christmas Day of course!'

Scrooge jumps up in delight. He hugs the housemaid then gives her a generous Christmas bonus and the day off. He calls to a child in the street and asks if the prize turkey is still in the butchers. The child replies, 'Yes' and Scrooge instructs him to buy it and take it over to the Cratchit house (giving him the money to purchase the bird along with a huge tip).

We go to Bob Cratchit's home, where the family are sitting around the bare dinner table, making the most of Christmas Day. Mrs Cratchit is complaining about having to make a toast to Mr Scrooge each year when it is Mr Scrooge that has kept them so poor. All the family agree when... there is a knock on the door. On opening the door, Mr Cratchit is astonished to see a child holding a prize turkey. The Cratchits are all delighted. Bob Cratchit stops them all cheering and asks, 'Who bought this joy to our family?' and Scrooge appears at the door: 'I did!' The Cratchit family stand back in absolute shock and amazement.

Scrooge apologises for how he has treated Bob, promising that the Cratchit family will never go hungry again and pledging that he will pay for the treatment of Tiny Tim's ailments. Mr Cratchit calls out three cheers for Mr Scrooge and they all have the happiest Christmas ever!
